

Access to Information Manual

of Access Track (Pty) Ltd

We respect your right of access to information. This manual will help you (the requester of information) to exercise that right and help you know how you may get access to our records. The Promotion of Access to Information Act 2 of 2000 as amended from time to time (known as PAIA¹) requires us to draft and make this manual available to you.

- Know what types of information we have.
- Know how to request access to it.

Callouts like this are a summary of our manual and contain the most important and relevant points for you. They are here to help you understand it, but please read the full manual.

1. Introduction

We describe who we are and what we do on our website.

PAIA² requires the information officer of a private body to compile a manual that contains information on the records it holds. A 'private body' means a natural person, company or other type of juristic entity that carries on any trade, business or profession and includes a political party. We are a private body.

This manual exists to tell you what information we have and help you get access to it.

2. Our details

6. Records we hold to comply with the law

We hold records that all organisations are required by law to hold⁹. We also hold records that the law specifically requires organisations like ours to retain. Please ask our information officer for details.

7. How you can request access

We have appointed our information officer to deal with all matters relating to PAIA so we can comply with our PAIA obligations. To request access to a record, please complete Form 2¹⁰.

Please submit the completed form (together with the relevant request fee we explain below) to our information officer's email address, our physical address, or by fax using the details we provide. Please ensure that the completed form:

- has enough information for the information officer to identify you, the requested records, and the form of access you require,
- specifies your email address, postal address, or fax number,
- describes the right that you seek to exercise or protect,
- explains why you need the requested record to exercise or protect that right,
- provides any other way you would like to be informed of our decision other than in writing, and
- provides proof of the capacity in which you are making the request if you are making it on behalf of someone else (we will decide whether this proof is satisfactory).

If you do not use the standard form, we may:

- reject the request due to lack of procedural compliance,
- refuse it if you do not provide sufficient information, or
- delay it.

You may request information by completing a request for access form and submitting it to our information officer together with a request fee.

8. How we will give you access

We will evaluate and consider all requests we receive. If we approve your request, we will decide how to provide access to you – unless you have asked for access in a specific form. Publication of this manual does not give rise to any rights to access information records, except in terms of PAIA.

9. How much it will cost you

Request fees

When submitting your request, you must pay us a request fee¹¹ as the law prescribes. You must pay us the prescribed fees before we give you access. You will receive a notice from our information officer upon your request¹², setting out the application procedure¹³.

Access fees

If we grant the request, you will have to pay us a further access fee¹⁴ the law prescribes that includes a fee for the time it takes us to handle your request, or if the time has exceeded the prescribed hours to search and prepare the record for disclosure. Our information officer will notify you if you need to pay a deposit for the access fee. The deposit may be up to one third of the prescribed access fee¹⁵. The access fee will provide for:

- the costs of making the record, or transcribing the record,
- a postal fee (if applicable), and
- the reasonable time we need to search for the record and prepare the record for you¹⁶.

If you paid the deposit and we refused your request, we will refund you the deposit amount. Until you have paid the fees, we may withhold the record you requested.

10. Grounds for us to refuse access

We may have to refuse you access to certain records in terms of PAIA to protect:

- someone else's privacy¹⁷,
- another company's commercial information¹⁸,
- someone else's confidential information¹⁹,
- research information²⁰,
- the safety of individuals and property²¹, or
- records privileged from production in legal proceedings²².

Some of these grounds are explained in further detail below.

Protection of someone else's privacy (a natural person)

We may refuse to give you access to a record if access would unreasonably disclose a natural person's personal information, including a deceased person.

We will not refuse access in certain circumstances.

- The person who the information pertains to, has given consent.
- The information is publicly available.
- The information belongs to a class of information, and the private body notified the individual upfront that the specific class of information might be made public.
- The record is physical or mental health information or information about someone's well-being who is:
 - under the requester's (your) care and below 18 years, or
 - incapable of understanding the nature of the request and giving access would be in the individual's best interests.
- The information is about a deceased person and:
 - you are the next of kin, or
 - the request is made with the written consent of the individual's next of kin.
- The information is about a person who is, or was an executive at your organisation, and the information relates to their position or functions, for example:
 - that the person was an official at our organisation,
 - the title, work address, work phone number and other similar details,
 - the classification, salary scale or remuneration and responsibilities of the position or services, and
 - the name of the person on a record prepared by them while employed.

Protection of another organisation's commercial information

We may refuse to give you access to a record if the record contains another organisation's:

- trade secrets,
- financial, commercial, scientific, or technical information and the disclosure could cause harm to the financial or commercial interests of that company,
- information and the disclosure could put that company at a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition, or
- information on a computer programme owned by us, protected by copyright.

Protection of the safety of individuals and property

We may refuse access if it could reasonably be expected to endanger someone's life or physical safety. We may refuse access to a record if disclosing it would be likely to prejudice or impair the security of:

- a building, structure, or system, including a computer or communication system,
- a means of transport,
- any other property,
- methods, systems, plans or procedures for the protection of someone in a witness protection scheme,
- the public, or a part of the public, or
- the property contemplated above.

Protection of research information

We may refuse you access to a record that contains research done by us or someone else, if disclosing it would disclose our identity, the researcher's or the subject matter of the research and would place the research at a serious disadvantage.

Our decision on giving you access

We will notify you in writing whether your request has been approved or denied within 30 calendar days after receiving your request. If we cannot find the record you asked for or it does not exist, we will notify you by way of affidavit that it is not possible to give access to that record.

We may have to refuse you access to a record to protect others.

11. Remedies available if we refuse to give you access

If we deny your request for access, you may:

- apply to a court²³ with appropriate jurisdiction, or
- complain²⁴ to the Information Regulator,

for the necessary relief within 180 calendar days of us notifying you of our decision.

12. How we process and protect personal information

Please refer to our Privacy Policy at <https://www.accesstrack.co.za/privacy>.

13. Availability of this Manual

This manual is available in English in electronic format on our website and in physical format at the reception of our company offices.

14. Updates to this Manual

We will update this manual whenever we make material changes to it.
